BANG'S DISEASE CONTROL CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED IN KNEEHILL DISTRICT

BEISEKER. — In common with others throughout the province, farmers of the Kneehill municipality are now invited to take part in a voluntary campaign to determine the health status of their herds—so far as Bang's disease is concerned—and to take steps to ensure that their herds of the future are disease free.

The first can be accomplished by having blood tests taken of all dairy cows, including particularly all cows used for home milk supply, since Bang-infected cows can transmit Undulant Fever to humans.

The second by vaccination of all heifer calves, whether dairy or beef, destined for herd replacement. Vaccination between four and nine months only is found effective and practical.

Dr. Ballantyne, Director of Veterinary Services, Dept. of Agriculture, advises that last year "Bang" were made in the new Provincial Laboratory, while 21,000 calves, approximately, were vaccinated in the province with vaccine supplied through the same source.

If you are interested in the above, whether you own one cow or 50, you are requested to list a request for service immediately at the M.D. office (or with anyone of those listed below), together with the number of vaccinations and blood tests required. Talk this over with your neighbor and have him do likewise. The law requires that the above work be done by a licensed veterinarian. The services of Dr. Peppin of Drumheller, are available, but his time is in heavy demand. Costs of the service, but not of the vaccine, have to be met by each applicant. By co-operation and organization these can be kept at a low figure within the reach of everyone. Do your part to ensure this by early listing. Further information available on request.

This campaign is sponsored by your Agricultural Service Board and the Alberta Dept. of Agriculture. Already a considerable number of animals have been tested and the Alberta Dept. of Agriculture Trochu, Acme, and Carbon areas, but other lists are in course of preparation.

—W.D.G.—Kneehill Agricultural Service Board.

Place your request with: Mr. Matt Schmaltz, Beiseker; Mr. Val Schmaltz, Beiseker; Mr. Art Bates, Acme.

Peter Schmidt Is Honored Recently

BEISEKER. — Mr. Peter Schmidt of Beiseker, was pleasantly surprised Sunday evening, Oct. 22, when his children and their families gathered to celebrate with him his 71st birthday.

Mr. Schmidt came to Beiseker in 1908 from Odessa, Wash., and has farmed in the Beiseker district ever since. In fact, Mr. Schmidt is very active, and still interested in farming. Although living in town he still runs his farm well.

Mr. Schmidt has three daughters, Mrs. G. Berreth, Mrs. Vernon Kline and Mrs. Kroschel of Beiseker; four sons, Lorne of Balzac, Elmer, Beiseker; Ivan, Trochu and Norman of Moffat.

There are 15 grandchildren. Those present for the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Schmidt and family of Balzac; Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Berreth and family, Beiseker; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kline and family, Beiseker; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schmidt and family, Beiseker and Mr. Garfield Anderson, teacher of Beeman School.

Mr. Schmidt was the recipient of many lovely gifts and the evening closed with a dainty luncheon including a beautiful birthday cake and lots of ice cream!

Snowfall Ruins Some Alberta Harvests

Wet, slushy snows have fallen in certain sectors of Alberta, ruining vast quantities of grain. In some sections where harvesting was abnormally late, grain was buried under seven inches of snow. This bridge was photographed at the height of a freak snowstorm.

BEISEKER NEWS NOTES

Mike Ternes and Frank Lycewski should be in town quite often now, since building themselves a highroad with the municipal elevator grader.

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. W. Hogg (Monica) states that they receive the Beiseker Times every Friday evening, and are very glad to get the Beiseker news. Monica says that the dog, Percy, was transferred to Regina, where he is retired.

Medicine Hat Lions' Charter night is on Oct. 27, and it is expected that there will be a bus load of Lions there from Swift Currents. Most likely Wilf and Monica will be among the number. There are rumors that some Beiseker Lions will also attend this night.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Scholtz and Peter Schmaltz, Jr., visited recently with Oug and Gert Brown at Mezappa.

Little Linda Schmaltz recently had an emergency operation. We hope that she is well on the road to recovery, and will be home very soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Wald were visiting at the home of his parents last week.

We are pleased to know that Teddy Hagel returned to school last week, and is felling 100 per cent.

Stanley Schmaltz is attending the Calgary Business College, and Matt Oberhoffer is taking up pharmacy in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wright and family spent last week end at Sylvan.

Mr. M. A. Bettin spent last week at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gibson spent a couple of days in Beiseker last week, but sorry to say they plan to leave Beiseker, where they have resided for the past 31 years and settle in Calgary. However, we hope to see them when they return to move their furniture, etc., to their lovely new home. Mrs. Florence Scott accompanied them.

Mrs. Fred Medinger had her sister, Mrs. Frank Weiserber of Schuler to visit her home recently.

Jimmy Scholtz's X-ray showed that he is doing very well, and

Beiseker Annual Supper Judged Great Success

BEISEKER. — The annual fowl supper and bazaar sponsored by the Catholic Women's League was a splendid success despite the adverse weather and road conditions. More than 625 meals were served.

Many Winners At Grain Club Fair

Mr. W. MacDonald, president of the Drumheller District Agricultural Society and Don Buyer of Carbon, took in the Drumheller Grain Show on Saturday, Oct. 21.

Howard Roppel of Rockyford, was fourth-time winner at the Drumheller Junior Grain Club Fair, which was held on Saturday. Marjorie Leiske of Beiseker, a member of the Carbon club, was named reserve champion with her sample of grain placed second. Dunavon Buyer of Carbon, was placed third, while Dan McDermid of Drumheller, was fourth and Ricky Sharpe of the Drumheller club, fifth.

Surprise Party Held In Beiseker

BEISEKER.—A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Van Housen of Beiseker, on Sunday evening, Oct. 22, by a large number of their friends in honor of their silver wedding anniversary. After an enjoyable evening, Mr. J. H. Schmaltz, on behalf of the guests presented the honored couple with a silver tea service.

The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schmaltz, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schwengler, Mr. and Mrs. George Pfeifer, Mr. and Mrs. Z. Reding, Mr. and Mrs. William Schwengler, Mr. and Mrs. L. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lang and Mr. and Mrs. Anton Krenzel.

is now able to attend school. He had taken his Grade I in the Junior Red Cross Hospital, and received a correspondence course from them this year until he was allowed to attend school.

Carl Lohrke has returned home from the hospital, and is feeling well but not allowed to work for some time.

Linda Fischer was a lucky little girl, winning her uncle Carl's donation to the Tombola prizes!

The day that the bazaar was held coincided with the birthday of Rev. A. E. Tennant, parish priest and chaplain of the League. In honor of his birthday and in appreciation of his splendid efforts in helping to make the bazaar a success, members of the CWL presented him with a birthday cake and gift, and a spiritual bouquet from the Catechism class.

Winners of the raffles which took place at the close of the entertainment, were as follows:

32-piece breakfast set, T. Olynuk, Nightingale; Satin quilt, Frank Randall, Keoma; 2 Boudoir electric lamps Linda Fischer, Edmonton; Car robe, Archie Turnbull, Beiseker; 150 lb. pig; Chuck Thumbert, Carbon; Electric clock lamp, Donald Hagel, Beiseker; Jewell portable radio, Mrs. Jack Selzer; Cedar chest and contents, Allan Hagel, Beiseker.

Turkey, Cecil Shenten, Beiseker; 2 chickens, Jack Chong, Beiseker; Goose, Frances Plante, Beiseker; Picture, Peter Scholtz, Sr., Beiseker; Rug, Felix Hagel, Beiseker; Garden ornament, Felix Hagel, Beiseker; Rug, Mrs. Matt Scholtz, Beiseker; Doll, Geraldine A. Hagel, Beiseker; Turkey, Tony Wald, Beiseker.

The president wishes to thank all those who helped to make the bazaar the success it was, and also all our Catholic and non-Catholic friends who patronized it.

The CWL wish to express their sincere thanks to the Misses Emma and Agnes Hagel, who baked and so beautifully decorated the birthday cake for Father Tennant.

Engagement

The engagement is announced of Barbara Schmaltz, second youngest daughter of Mrs. Andrew Schmaltz and the late Mr. Andrew Schmaltz, Beiseker, to Mr. Stanley Howard Olsen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Darce Olsen, Beiseker. The marriage will take place in Beiseker, on Monday, Nov. 6.

Dollar's New Value Lowers Prices

Budget-minded housewives are expected to find some relief from high prices in the new dollar valuation announced by the government. Many imports from the U.S. formerly bought at the 10% premium will now sell in Canada at the same price as in the U.S.

Who Owns the Soil?

This is a question every serious-minded farmer should ask himself. Men who have paid taxes for years, who have deeds to their farms registered in their own names (but not the "mineral rights") should study the cases of two farmers with land near the Redwater oil fields. J. A. Gaumont and J. W. Brown, of Fort Saskatchewan and Redwater respectively are being halled into court for removing sand and gravel from their own property!

Two big Calgary companies, not satisfied with swelling oil profits, have obtained an injunction against allowing these two citizens to sell sand and gravel from their farms. The utterly ridiculous proposition that a load of common gravel is the equivalent of a load of precious stones is the excuse given for this bit of petty encroachment.

If the oil companies win out against the farmers, the next step could be to restrain farmers who do not actually own mineral rights from sowing crops and reaping harvests. All crops require food and nourishment from the soil, which is a mineral. Drinking water, for humans and stock is mineral. Why shouldn't the oil companies collect royalties every time a pail of water is hauled out of the well?

Fortunately, this sort of action against farmers who do not own mineral rights, is unusual for Alberta oil companies. But it just goes to show the common man must be everlastingly on guard for his rights.

Call for Arthur Ellis

That stupid goon, Arthur Ellis, the official hangman who depends upon murders and killings for his harvest, is shirking his duties. Joseph Gilbert, condemned murderer, will live most of November instead of only half the month because Ellis is not to be found.

Do our law makers believe that, when Arthur Ellis has been found, and done his ignoble duty, that Gilbert will be the better for the hanging? Will the judge and jury feel better? Will Gilbert's victim, abiding in eternity, be happy because his murderer joins him over on the other side? Will society be happy because Gilbert is out of the way—forever?

This misguided youth of 23 years should be permitted to pay his debt to society by work and labor, under humane conditions, for his natural life. The murdered man cannot be brought back to life because Gilbert is hanged. If allowed to live, Gilbert would be able to do some useful work, behind prison bars where he could be no more a menace to society.

How long will it be before Canada takes the sensible attitude on the punishment of murderers?

Spanking Is Unchristian

A refreshing bit of news comes to us from Winnipeg, where Psychologist Joyce Burns of the University of Manitoba has come out dead-in-earnest against spanking. "Spanking" she warns "has no lasting corrective effect." In plain English, that means you don't make good boys and girls out of bad boys and girls by spanking them. Miss Burns says whipping naughty children arouses resentment in the mind of the child, and puts the parent in the role of a bully.

What Miss Burns says about unruly children is true of unruly nations. It is also true of unruly and criminal adults. What, in effect, we're driving at is that the Christian attitude of forgiveness and helpfulness, whether it be towards children, adults or nations, is the only sound corrective.

It is admittedly hard for us to follow the Master's advice to "return good for evil," at times, but in our dealings with others, it is this New Testament doctrine, instead of the Old Testament maxims of "An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth" and "Spare the rod and spoil the child" that will get us the best results in human relations.

The Talk-With-Stalin Idea

By T. W. PUE

The past week-end, according to reports from Tokyo, has brought near-cessation of the Korean war. It was a struggle fomented by the Russians for two principal purposes, as follows:

(a) To see if the United Nations would really fight, without involving Russia, and

(b) If we were too morally weak to defend South Korea, to add that much more territory and 25,000,000 more population to the swelling Soviet strength.

A great step forward has been made with all the free nations of the world stopping aggression in Korea, and perhaps for years to come holding back World War III.

Do Business With Stalin?

Many statesmen have tried to do business with Stalin, including Roosevelt and Churchill, but an independent assessment of their work leads one to believe that either Stalin is not honest in his international deliberations, or he hasn't got the dictatorial power credited to him in carrying out his agreements.

However, compared to war, talk is cheap, and some prominent political figures are willing to sit down with Stalin across the conference table again to try and resolve our differences. Perhaps, having just lost the Korean war, Uncle Joe will be more pliable. One U.S. leader, Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, has written to Premier Joseph Stalin, of Russia, suggesting a face-to-face meeting in an effort to "stop the drift to war."

We hold Mr. Stassen in high regard but we do not see where there is anything to be gained by a parley between the Russian dictator and an American citizen holding no office and without authority to implement any agreement.

There is the chance that Mr. Stassen will give the Russian leader an excellent opportunity to put over some choice propaganda. After all, is there anybody who thinks that peace can be secured by a conversation with Stalin on an unofficial basis?

The world needs some overt act from the Russians to persuade everybody that the Soviet Union wants peace and is willing to let other nations live their own lives without the threat of Russian domination. This cannot be established by an interview in Moscow but must be demonstrated in the attitude that Russia shows to her neighboring countries.

Maybe Mr. Stassen thinks that his persuasive powers will lead the Russian dictator to change his policies and "move toward world peace and freedom for mankind." Such a naive conclusion overlooks the simple fact that the Russian people, largely uneducated and somewhat bound by past superstitions, are not yet ready for the freedoms that western nations enjoy.

Note and Comment

Freedom of men under government is to have a standing rule to live by, common to every one of that society and made by the legislative power vested in it; a liberty to follow my own will in all things, when the rule prescribes not, and not to be subject to the inconstant, uncertain unknown, arbitrary will of another man.—Locke.

Dear Sir,—I have not tasted a flavorful potato in two years. Most of them are dull, flat and bitter. Potatoes should not be merely carriers for butter and salt; they have a flavor in their own right. Potato consumption would increase enormously if more attention were paid to their flavor instead of the condition of the skin.

Found Us Nervous

Dear Sir,—What's wrong with you down-under people anyway? I was in Edmonton for a year and met very few friends. I came across all types of society, but they all seemed to have some ailment to be eliminated, as the price of friendship. They wanted to turn me into a loan office, a baby sitter, a lonely hearts editor, a marriage counsellor, a morale booster and a pawn shop. Isn't there anybody living there without a care in the world?

Dear Sir,—I just came across an old issue of your paper where some guy in Whitecourt says he hates women. He probably loves them just as much as the rest of us, but doesn't know how to handle them. Never let a woman think she can boss you. Marry her first—then show her who's boss. If mild words of persuasion don't work a little paddling with her across your knees is bound to do the trick. These women haters are really only sissies, who don't know how to handle women and are afraid of them.

Convention in Regina

A new Social Credit plan presented by Albertans for curing the country's ills came for consideration last week by the national convention of the party meeting in Regina.

The new Social Credit manifesto had already been approved by the national council of the Social Credit Association of Canada and close to 100 delegates were on hand during the convention to consider it.

The manifesto stated that the objectives of Social Credit were "designed to eliminate the abuses of capitalism and to give all people greater individual freedom and a higher standard of living."

The party aimed to establish a national economy based on individual enterprise and to work for adoption of a sound and scientific basis for international goodwill and peace, the manifesto said.

The national economy proposed by the party would provide for:

1. Abundant production of all wanted goods and efficient and equitable distribution of total production.

2. Elimination of booms and depressions and maximum of opportunity for every individual to engage in gainful employment.

3. Assurance that each individual would receive an equitable share of the aggregate financial credit of the nation.

Solon Low, national Social Credit leader, told the convention he did not believe there would be any war for many years if Russia did not start one before October, 1951.

Canada and the other Western powers must not relax following victory in Korea but must build up defences as a deterrent to Communism, Low said.

The most critical region was Western Europe, he said. "The Western powers are determined to send a very substantial force into Western Europe at the earliest possible moment."

Low attacked Canada's "middle-of-the-road" course at the United Nations. "Canadian delegates insist on taking the middle-of-the-road where everyone gets run over," he said.

He called on the country to stop compromising its principles and assert itself at the U.N.

Oil Pipeline Nearing Completion

Although the Redwater-South Edmonton-Regina link of the inter-provincial oil pipe line is now operating, the Regina-Winnipeg-Superior link remains to be opened. This link may be operating by Christmas. Seen here are Hon. C. D. Howe and Premier Manning, who officiated at the recent pipe line opening in Strathcona district, on the outskirts of South Edmonton.

Liberals Name Candidate For Olds Bye-election

Delegates to the Liberal nominating convention for the Olds bye-election on Wednesday, Oct. 18, expressed through their resolutions general dissatisfaction with the present Alberta government.

Similar dissatisfaction exists throughout the entire Olds constituency and centres mainly around the government's oil and road policies, and the rising costs of municipal administration and education.

The convention was attended by 41 enthusiastic delegates, and despite poor road conditions almost all polls were represented by the one delegate allowed for most.

Martin Winther, a long-time resident from the Huxley district, will be the Liberal candidate in the bye-election. Mr. Winther is a large-scale farmer, well versed in educational and municipal problems through his experience on the Ghost Pine municipal council, and through his membership for the past six years on the Stettler Division School Board. Born in Denmark, he has resided in the Huxley area since 1916. His election to the legislature would ensure the people of Olds constituency of representation by a man with first-hand knowledge of all rural problems.

The convention was attended by J. Harper Prowse, Provincial Liberal Leader, who stressed that the desire of the people of the constituency for a change in government policy in municipal matters could best be expressed by the election to the legislature of another opposition member, qualified to give constructive criticism. He said he intended to ask the Premier to state before election day whether or not the partly completed road west of Olds would be finished no matter who won the seat. He wondered if it might not be something the government was holding out as a 'bribe.'

Hugh John MacDonald, Liberal MLA from Calgary was also present. A growth in Liberal strength in the legislature, he said, would give clear indication that people were looking for a change in government.

Mr. Winther won his nomination with an over-all majority over three other nominees—Edward Miller, R. A. MacKinnon and Alex Weir, all from Olds.

The following officers were elected to guide the business of the Olds Liberal Association until the next convention: President, Alex Weir, Olds; vice-president, J. P. Ferguson, Trochu; secretary-treasurer, Ted Miller, Olds.

One resolution passed by the meeting urged the government to require a plebiscite before putting the County Act into force in any area. Another asked for grants covering a much larger per centage of the cost of education. Payment of a two and a half per cent royalty on oil and gas to the owner of surface rights was also advocated. The construction of a good road from Olds to Rumsey was also the subject of a resolution.

Proposes Peace Formula for Korea

A plan for peace in Korea was made by Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson, left, before the UN General Assembly at New York recently. CROSSFIELD NEWS BRIEFS

CROSSFIELD.— Mr. and Mrs. Hilley O'Neill, formerly of Crossfield were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet O'Neill recently.

The newly-weds, Enid and Tommy are back from their honeymoon.

Mrs. Alf Edlund is expected home Sunday morning by plane, (October 22). She has been visiting relatives in Ontario. Her holiday was over a month, so we are wondering if Crossfield will look good to her under its mantle of snow. We would like to trade our weather and get a bit of badly needed sunshine.

There is only about 50 per cent of harvesting done in our district.

Don't forget the CWL Tea, Bazaar and Bake Sale with added attractions of door prize and raffle on Oct. 28 at 2:30 p.m.

Iverlea Ladies are holding a Bazaar, Tea and Bake Sale on November 4 at 3:00 p.m.

Mrs. C. Calhoun has returned from a three weeks visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hatton, Bottrel. She reports that Jerry has his harvesting all done and a good crop in the bin.

Clifford Brandon is suffering a foot injury when he let a swather hitch fall on his foot and left him hobbling around on crutches. We hope this will be the last mishap as Cliff seems to have more than his share of trouble.

The Senior WA members, five of them, decided it was high time that the United Church basement should have a general house cleaning, so they beseeched it with mops, wall brooms, and scrub brushes and an electro-lux. It certainly looks like a horse of a different color now and should be in better shape for the children to hold their group meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bur are rejoicing in the birth of a son on Tuesday, October 17 in the Holy Cross hospital in Calgary.

Little Paul Kinghorn is confined to his bed for an indefinite period at the home of his mother who is nursing him.

Allan Becker has to spend a couple of months in bed due to a rheumatic condition.

The Mission Band under leadership of Barbara Bills held a very successful bake sale on Saturday, October 14 in Laut's store and are to be congratulated on their efforts.

Jack Low has been quite ill lately, but it is hoped that he is on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Fred Becker has as her guests her mother, Mrs. McBride of Camrose, and two aunts, one from California and the other from New Mexico. They hope to spend another week in our town.

Mrs. Walter Stewart, polio victim has been transferred to University hospital at Edmonton, where it is hoped that treatment will bring a definite cure.

Miss Daisy Robinson was back in town last week.

Miss Eunice Harrison is spending a holiday under the parental roof, after having graduated from the Nursing Aid course which was completed on Oct. 14 in Calgary. She received her cap and pin at the graduation exercises on that date and our best wishes are extended to a local girl who has attained her ambition. Good luck, Eunice!

CGIT Hold Rally In Calgary

Some Seasonal Hints

With harvesting operations completed, the weeks that lie ahead just before and after freeze-up, provide an opportunity to plan and complete important farm operations.

After-harvest Cultivation. Shallow, after-harvest cultivation is of great value as an aid in the control of many annual and some perennial weeds. Shallow, fall tillage of stubble fields is a useful approach in the destruction of sawfly larvae and grasshopper eggs. Proper adjustment of tillage equipment is important, however, in fall cultivation of this kind, to ensure that all crop residue is anchored near the surface as an aid to soil and water conservation.

Time to Seed Grass. This fall presents one of the best opportunities in recent years to begin a grassing program. In the first place, forage crop seeds are in good supply and selling at reasonable prices. Furthermore, in most of the prairie region moisture reserves are adequate and there is plenty of good heavy stubble cover on most fields to provide ideal seed bed conditions for the fall sowing of grass. Shallow seeding into clean stubble fields, anytime after October 15th, gives every indication this year of being a successful practice. With this method there is very little danger of the seed germinating before freeze-up, and consequently good stands usually result from the more favorable conditions for growth in the early spring. This is one way to begin to accumulate reserves of feed for the dry summers and hard winters that come with unfailing regularity.

Think of Seed Supplies. The widespread damage to grain crops in some areas from drought, in others from early and severe frost, and more recently from fall rains and delayed harvesting, will undoubtedly be reflected in a heavy demand for seed supplies of good quality. This unusual situation emphasizes the importance of testing all farm seed stocks held for planting in 1951. Farmers holding grain unfit for seed, would be well advised to locate and purchase good seed this fall. It may be too late to act if you wait until spring.

treat was thoroughly appreciated and the carpet was very beautiful. In the afternoon 87 girls registered at North Hill Un. Church at 1:30. The session opened with Group leadership training and a talk about vocation school on the Alaska highway. At the banquet the guest speaker dealt with world S.S. conference at Toronto. Games and other forms of amusement followed till the evening's festivities closed with vesper service conducted by Miss Bartner, the new association secretary for Alberta.

On Sunday there was even a greater turn-out of CGIT members on parade. Rev. Pottruff chose for his theme "Are You Going Somewhere, or Just Travelling?" This service ended the rally and all agreed that it had been a most enjoyable one.

BACK through the centuries to the prehistoric times wool has proved itself the most durable, practical and attractive of fabrics. So much so that man has never been able to invent a satisfactory substitute for it.

Wool has been one of man's warmest friends due to its unique qualities. Wool fibres, composed of layers of interlocking cells, are highly resilient (can be stretched as much as thirty per cent and spring back to original size) as well as highly absorbent (wool can absorb up to fifty per cent of moisture without getting damp.) Wool is, in fact, one of nature's great insulators, keeping body heat in and cold out. The Arabs, who wear those voluminous wool turbans to protect their heads from the desert sun, have also discovered that wool keeps heat out. Ideal from the point of view of health and comfort, wool is also exceptionally sturdy. As for beauty, wool is unrivalled in loveliness of texture and color.

Knitting is fun. Aside from the pleasure of making something lovely—to say nothing of its financially saving graces!—knitting has a relaxing and quieting effect. Its importance in this connection has long been recognized, and it is now widely used for its therapeutic value in many institutions. Today knitting enjoys what is probably the greatest vogue of its long and honorable history.

If you have youngsters in your family who are at that active, fun-loving age, then knitting can solve many wardrobe difficulties. School children need clothing that is warm, practical and attractive. Hand knits, whether they be socks, sweaters, dresses, mittens, scarves or hats, meet these three requirements. You can buy the yarn for all these articles of clothing and make them up very inexpensively. One word of caution though: be sure you buy enough wool at one time to complete the garment you are making, for the color may vary in different dye lots.

Soon, now, the winter winds will start and temperatures will proceed to slide down the thermometer and for this season you'll want to have plenty of warm woollens for the youngsters in your family. No matter what the weather is like kiddies like to be outdoors as much as possible. Even in the coldest of winter weather you'll find them out revelling in the snow... tobogganing, sliding or skiing, or hurrying off at every opportunity to the local ice rink... the girls to practice figure eights, and the boys trying out for the hockey team. It seems, though, that no matter how carefully you bundle up the youngsters those nasty old cold germs seem to catch up with them sometime during the winter months. So if your little girl is confined to bed for a few days make sure she's comfy and warm by knitting her this pretty, lightweight bedjacket. The Needlework Dept. of this paper will send you an instruction leaflet for making it if you will write, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and ask for LITTLE GIRL'S BEDJACKET, Leaflet No. CW-6.

Unseasonable Weather Still In Rumsey District

RUMSEY.—The weather is the chief topic of conversation around Rumsey these days. Last week a total of eight inches of snow fell in the district. It has been melting slowly with the result that the sideroads are seas of mud.

Some of the cattlemen with short pastures have been forced to feed their stock. The others are hoping that a change of weather won't make it necessary to dig into their feed reserves.

Hopes of winding up harvest are diminishing daily. Most of the crops east of town and some west are still in the fields. However, our local weather prophets are predicting a dry November.

John and Golin Storch and Glenn Primrose have been hauling gravel for the road to the proposed Socony Vacuum oil well at Rowley. John has bought a new three-ton truck and has been going about his work despite a broken wrist. He received the injury when the truck he was cranking backfired.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Steen held their wedding dance at the Community hall last Friday evening. A good contingent of local people and strangers attended, despite the condition of the roads. Music was supplied by the Tolman orchestra.

Friends of the newlyweds took advantage of the occasion to put on a miscellaneous shower at the same time. Presentation was made by Bob Tolman.

Elizabeth Kowaluck, schoolgirl, has been a patient at the Drumheller hospital with a case of blood poisoning. Her school mate, Florence Upton, has been at Stettler hospital with septic throat.

Rev. I. N. Hughson held services at Rumsey Sunday, after returning to his home at Big Valley last Thursday. He has spent some time in hospital at Calgary, following a major operation.

Rev. Fr. J. J. Ahearne is back at his parish at Big Valley after returning from a pilgrimage to Home and a visit to his native Ireland.

A baptismal service was held at the UFA hall Sunday when David Bernard, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Schowalter was presented for holy baptism. The sacrament was administered by Rev. C. V. Hennig, Lutheran pastor. Mr. and Mrs. R. Witzke were sponsors.

LETTER TO LOUISA

'Disgusted Son' Has Naggingest Family

DEAR LOUISA:—I am a boy of sixteen, and I have the naggingest family in the world.

They nag if I sleep late, if I get to meals late, if I take the car, if I leave my clothes on the floor or if I eat something out of the ice box. And yet they are always asking me to do errands.

As a matter of fact, I hardly ever do anything they ask me to do if I can get out of it, because they are such an ungrateful lot. If I ever get a job, I am going off somewhere where people appreciate me.

DISGUSTED SON.

Answer:

My dear, you have drawn such a perfect picture of yourself in this letter that I'm sure you will have to change a lot before you will be appreciated by anyone.

Do you wonder that you have to be corrected if, at the age of sixteen, you do nothing but loaf around the house causing lots of unnecessary work for others by your careless ways and then not even trying to make up for it by doing little jobs in return?

All boys and girls go through this 'put upon' period, but you will find a lot more happiness if you will take the chip off your shoulder, and try to see how nice and obliging you can be to the rest of the family.

Then you will at least have the pleasure of knowing that when you come in, every one is glad to have you instead of sighing and thinking, 'Here comes more work and ill humor.'

Try to be careful and helpful and see how much happier you will be.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa—I keep house for my daughter and me. We have a small suite and she has a job which gets her home about six in the afternoon. Don't you think she should help with the housework? We are dependent on what she makes, so we cannot afford a maid. She resents it when I ask her to do anything around the house.

MOTHER.

Answer:

Keeping a small apartment for two people is probably not as much work as she does. You admit that she supports you on what she makes and I think it is only fair for you to earn your living by doing your part.

Why is it that mothers never expect their sons who have jobs to come in from work and start into house cleaning, but just because another wage earner in the family happens to wear a skirt, they feel wronged because she doesn't pick up a broom or a dish cloth the minutes she enters the door?

Unless she just wants to help or you get sick, I do not think your daughter should be expected to work at home and abroad.

LOUISA.

SEEKS FINANCE AUTHORITY

Alberta Premier E. C. Manning's main task at the recent Quebec constitutional conference was to press for greater provincial authority in the financial field, according to reports.

The Social Credit government on numerous occasions has had its unique financial bills over-ruled by the Supreme Court, on the grounds that the federal government has sole jurisdiction over the nation's financial affairs. This clause is written into the British North America Act.

Manning recommends rewriting the Canadian constitution rather than merely amending it.

Mr. Gerard is accompanied, by his wife and family of four boys, Roger, Gordon, Robert and Hermel, Jr. Living with them in a home formerly owned by Mr. G. Stromberg of Hughenden is Mr. Gerard's mother, Mrs. Diane Gerard.

Mr. Gerard was in the hotel business for 20 years at Wanham.

Oil Men Reported Duped By Thief

MORINVILLE.—Oilfield workers are the victims of a new type of thief here, according to police. Several workers have said to be swindled by a watch 'thief' operating in the district.

According to one oil man, he was approached here by a man who said he was broke and needed money to return home. The confidence man then produced an almost new watch with a bill of sale which said the watch was worth $89. He borrowed $25 off the unwitting worker, saying that he would return later to redeem it. The oil man found out later the watch was worth only about $4.

RED DEER Alberta

Edmonton's CBX Station Ranks As Leading Studio

The growth of the OBC Prairie Region's Alberta studios at Edmonton, in the two years since the opening of new 50,000-watt transmitters in Alberta and Manitoba, has been a striking feature in the general development of Prairie Region broadcasting activity under the guidance of J. R. Finlay, CBC Regional representative.

In charge of the Edmonton office, under Mr. Finlay's general direction, has been Dan E. Cameron, CBC manager for Alberta.

Mr. Cameron is a native of Moose Jaw, a graduate of the University of Saskatchewan, and a former school principal.

For some years before going to Edmonton, he headed the CBC's Talks and Educational Department at Prairie Region Headquarters, Winnipeg.

In Alberta, his work in such vivid CBC actualities as the Calgary Stampede and Edmonton Exhibition broadcasts, and his organization of such excellent public service broadcasts as CBX's popular Alberta Memos, have made him known throughout the province.

Alberta's voice, on CBC national and regional networks, and in CBC councils generally, has been heard very emphatically since Mr. Cameron took up his duties at the Alberta capital in 1948.

MILLING AND BAKING QUALITY OF FROSTED WHEAT SAID NOT LOWER THAN USUAL VARIETIES

In spite of some frost damage, No. 4 Northern wheat should prove satisfactory for milling according to a report prepared by the Board of Grain Commissioners' Laboratory.

Some No. 5 wheat may also be milled if markets can be found for low grade flour of darker color and reduced baking strength. No. 6 wheat, which is more heavily frosted and contains more green and immature kernels, will be fit only for feed. These lower grades show the typical properties of frosted wheat established by seven years' research following 1927, the last year in which a heavily frosted crop was harvested in Canada.

The report was presented by Dr. J. A. Anderson, chief chemist of the Board of Grain Commissioners, at a meeting of the committee on western grain standards held on September 28 in Winnipeg.

Dr. Anderson presented milling data and showed loaves baked from average samples of grades 4, 5 and 6. These grades show increasing percentages of frost damage. An average sample of sound wheat grading No. 2 Northern was used for comparison. Over 3,800 samples of wheat from all parts of western Canada were collected and analysed for the preparation of grade averages. Dr. Anderson emphasized that he dealt with estimates of quality based on data now available. The crop is late, and only a small proportion of it has been threshed and delivered to country elevators. The Laboratory may have to revise its estimates as samples of late harvested wheat are collected and studied.

Differences in the milling quality of the grades are shown in the following table:

Grade	Flour		Mill Time Min.
	Bu. Wt. Lb.	Yield %
2 Nor.	64.0	72.2	45
4 Nor.	62.5	69.0	55
No. 5	61.2	66.9	65
No. 6	59.5	64.1	70

Bushel weights were tested on wheat cleaned for milling and are thus higher than weights usually reported. Flour yields show the percentages of flour that can be obtained by normal milling methods; the amount decreases with grade, No. 6 yielding 8 per cent less flour than No. 2. Frosted, green, and immature kernels make the lower grades woody and hard to mill; the wheat does not break up readily into flour. These qualities are shown by the increased time required for milling samples of lower grades. In the commercial mill frosted wheat slows up production and increases flour costs.

Properties for the flour from each grade are shown in the next table:

Grade	Ash, %		Absorption
	%	Color	tion
2 Nor.	.56	100	60.7
4 Nor.	.61	98	64.4
No. 5	.64	93	66.3
No. 6	.67	92	66.7

High ash is undesirable in flour, and flour is bought on specifications stating a maximum ash content. The table shows that ash content goes up as the grade goes down. Color scores are measures of the whiteness of the flour made with a spectrophotometer. While 2 Northern gives a creamy white flour, the lower grades are progressively greyer and browner. These differences in color are easily seen even by untrained persons. In commercial mills bleaching is used to whiten flour milled from sound wheat; but bleaching cannot remove the dull grey color of flour milled from frosted, immature and green kernels. Absorption is a measure of the amount of water required to make a dough suitable for baking. In sound wheat, a reasonably high absorption is desirable; but frosted wheat shows higher absorption than normal because of damage to the grain constituents. The dough absorbs a large amount of water when mixed but cannot hold it during fermentation and later becomes slack and more difficult to handle.

Loaves of bread baked from flour of each grade were shown at the meeting. Dr. Anderson dealt first with the size of the loaves. As each loaf is made from the same weight of flour, a large loaf represents what we commonly call light bread; and a small loaf represents heavy, soggy bread. Strong wheat that will give a large loaf is demanded in England to improve the soft home-grown wheat. Canadian wheat that gives a small loaf will not improve English wheat.

No. 2 Northern of this year's crop gave a loaf of 740cc. This is considerably lower than the 10-year average for the grade which is 785 cc. Loaf sizes for this and the other grades, together with the protein contents of the flour, are given in the following table:

Grade	Loaf size, cc.		Flour Pro. %
	cc.	%
2 Nor.	740	12.6
4 Nor.	725	13.1
No. 5	635	12.5
No. 6	575	12.3

The loaves decrease in size as the grade of the wheat drops. In sound wheat, loaf volume is almost invariably directly related to protein content; the higher the protein content, the larger the loaf. This relation does not hold in the above table. No. 2 gives a larger loaf than No. 4 and a much larger loaf than No. 5 though No. 2 has a lower protein than No. 4 and little more protein than No. 5. A smaller loaf than would be expected on a protein basis shows how the frost has damaged the quality of the protein in wheat entering the lower grades.

The darker color and poorer baking quality of the lower grades also shows in the outside appearance of the loaves and in the texture and color of the crumb when the sliced bread is examined. Scores reported in the next table are on a scale with 10 points as a perfect score.

Grade	Outside Crumb		Crumb Texture Color
	Appear.	Texture
2 Nor.	9.0	7.5	6.5
4 Nor.	8.0	6.5	5.0
No. 5	5.0	3.0	3.0
No. 6	3.0	1.0	1.5

No. 2 gives a bold, well shaped loaf, and No. 4 is only slightly inferior in appearance. But No. 5 and No. 6 give poorly shaped loaves. Marked differences occur in crumb color and texture. No. 2 has a close, even texture, and a creamy color. No. 4 loaf has a crumb that is not so close and even and has a greyish tinge. Loaves for No. 5 and No. 6 are progressively poorer. The crumb is coarse and open in texture, and large blow holes in the body of the loaf and just under the crust occur quite frequently. The color of the crumb is unattractive; it has a dirty yellowish brown color, especially in the No. 6 loaf.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Christian Living Is Founded on Prayer

Christian living, the way of life for all who seek to walk the Golden Road, is based largely on prayer. Prayer has been defined as 'Conversation with God,' and indeed it is that.

In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus gave his hearers many directions for living as citizens of the Kingdom and among them, he tells them how to pray. While practically all Christians have memorized the words of what we call "the Lord's Prayer," we do not believe it was Jesus' idea that this prayer was to be used word-for-word, but as a "pattern" for our conversation with God.

This prayer reveals what Jesus taught about the fatherhood of God when he began it, saying, "Our Father." He then goes on to summarize what God's children should ask of their Heavenly Father.

First, we are to pray for the coming of God's kingdom and, in praying thus, we are to place ourselves in God's hands so that he may use us, to help bring in his kingdom of justice, truth and loving-kindness on earth. Then, we are to pray for the necessities of life. "Give us this day our daily bread." Knowing that God provides the basic needs of man, Jesus told his disciples that they should pray for daily food to enable them to enjoy such health, strength and spiritual growth that they might be able to perform the tasks which God had given them to do. Christians are to think of themselves as God's servants and pray day by day for such bread as is needed for health and strength in his service.

Certainly, all of us need to pray for forgiveness. "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God," Paul declares and we all need the forgiveness of God for these sins. However, we might point out that there is a condition which must be met before God promises to forgive our sins—we must be willing to forgive those who sin against us. Thus we find that God's forgiveness can come only to those who themselves show a forgiving spirit.

"And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil." In praying thus, we are asking for God's moral guidance and deliverance from the temptations that beset us. All of us know what a source of strength prayer can be in a time of testing. We cannot escape situations and circumstances that try our souls, but, with God's help, we can be strong enough to overcome them.

"For Thine is the Kingdom and the power and the glory, forever, Amen." It is reassuring to the children of God to realize that God's kingdom and power and glory are everlasting and that, trusting in him, he is able to give us the victory over sin and death.

No Sleep For Bankers While Dollar Jumping

Bankers are busy these days as they attempt to keep up with the elusive Canadian dollar. Here at the traders' desk of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto, a constant flow of messages from one bank to another keeps the traders informed of the dollar's changes in value, and prevent their branch from getting behind in the overall trading.

New Alberta Railroad Revives Memories of Early Pioneer Days

Memories of warring Indians, peaceful pioneer homesteaders, and the progress of the great iron horse have been revived with the construction of a new 14-mile length of rail track in Alberta. Construction of the track was announced by Mr. Alex Robertson, president and general manager, The Winnipeg Supply and Fuel Company Limited.

The track will be used to move Vesta coal from the Alberta Coal Company's mine on the south bank of the Battle River to Halkirk, where the line connects with the Canadian Pacific Railway. Halkirk is east of Stettler, midway between Hardisty and Drumheller.

"The line," Mr. Robertson said, "will enable this coal to be shipped by rail right from its source rather than be hauled long distance by truck."

"It was extremely interesting to see the modern methods of laying track as compared to the old 'hammer-swinging' days," Mr. Robertson stated.

The Winnipeg Supply and Fuel Company Limited are the exclusive distributors of Vesta Coal.

The coal will bear the brand name "Vesta", the mythological goddess of the hearth and protectress of the household. It was Vesta's altars that were guarded by the Vestal Virgins in ancient Greece and Rome.

Mr. Robertson explained that

Mobile Bank Seen At Plowing Match

There's plenty of new developments in the banking field these days, including a new mobile bank, which went into action at the recent International Plowing Match in Alliston, Ont. In the early days of banking, managers often loaded a cash box onto a wagon and set up shop in a wheat field. This mobile unit is operated by the Bank of Commerce.

Local Man Fails to Place In International Plowing Contest

Len Jobb of rural South Edmonton, Alta., plowing champion who entered the recent international plowing competitions in Alliston, Ont., failed to win a place in the event that would have allowed him a tour of Britain.

Winners were Herb Jarvis of Agincourt, Ont., and Hugh Leslie of Georgetown, Ont.

The two winners will compete in plowing matches in England, Scotland and northern Ireland, as well as examine conservation and agricultural methods during their six-week all-expense paid tour.

Several other competitors also received free trips to the 1950 Chicago Livestock exposition.

Although Mr. Jobb did not place in the event, he is receiving congratulations from district residents in his good efforts as Alberta representative in the contest.

Madden Murmurs

Miss Catherine Leask R.N., of Victoria, B.C. is spending a prolonged holiday with her mother and other relatives in the Madden district.

Ray Havens has returned to his home after having treatment in a Calgary hospital for a heart ailment and is feeling somewhat better.

The dance held in the Madden hall on Oct. 20 was well patronized considering the condition of the roads, and the quilt raffled by the Madden Ladies Club did very well financially; it was won by Donald Leask.

Myron Latimer is the proud owner of a brand new Ford car.

Joyce, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dodd was taken to the General hospital. To date her case is not fully diagnosed.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Peters. (nee Marie Hatton) in a Calgary hospital, on Oct. 9, a son.

LEVEL LAND BRIEFS

Mr. Raymond Hagel of Beiseker, visited the Junior Grain Fair for Acme and Carbon, which was held in Carbon last Thursday, Oct. 19.

Mr. Alex Vorrath and his two boys, Bernie and Gary, left this week for Penticton, B.C., where they will live for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Heuther spent the week end at Lacombe, visiting their son, Bill and other friends.

Mr. Reynhold Heuther bought a pony for his young son, Leroy. Leroy claims it rides as smooth as a rocking-chair.

Mr. Dan Letz and Mr. Edwin Becker left last Monday for their home in California.

The SDA Dorcas Society had a meeting on Saturday night, Oct. 21. They finished a quilt and packed a parcel for India.

There are still quite a number in this district waiting to finish their harvesting. A few have very little threshed.

Winthar Named By Liberals

Martin Winthar, 57-year-old farmer from the Huxley district, won the Liberal nomination for the Olds byelection at a nominating convention Wednesday.

The byelection will be held Nov. 16. The seat was made vacant by the death of Norman Cook, Social Credit, M.L.A.

Parents Honored At Surprise Party

CROSSFIELD.— Ardent bridge players, the parents of Mrs. C. D. Casey, Mr. and Mrs. Knight whose lengthy visit to the Casey home is over, were delightfully surprised on Saturday evening, October 14 when six tables of bridge fans arrived to wish them farewell and a safe journey back to their home in Victoria. On behalf of those present, Mrs. Budgeon presented a rose corsage and a boutonniere to the honored couple who made their appreciation felt in a nice response. Cards were enjoyed until 11:30 p.m. when a delightful lunch was served by those who were responsible for the surprise. Mrs. Garnet O'Neil received nylons for having the highest score, and Mrs. Wayne Heywood, consolation, a little "clean-up on your bridge dish cloth; Mr. Hesketh, as first high gent, received dress socks and handkerchiefs whilst Ernie McNaughton's consolation read, "polish up on your bridge" across a can of shoe polish. After wishing the Knights a pleasant trip home the happy gang disbanded.

BRIDE-ELECT FETED RECENTLY AT PRETTY SHOWER IN CROSSFIELD

CROSSFIELD.— The Crossfield United Church parlor was the scene of a pretty bridal shower on Saturday, Oct. 21 at 8:30 p.m. when Miss Margaret Dunsmore was the guest of honor.

H and S Holds First Meeting Of Year

CROSSFIELD.— The first fall meeting of the Crossfield Home and School Association was held Thursday evening, Oct. 19. This Association meets regularly on the third Thursday of the month.

Bert Lilley, the organization's new president, officiated at the meeting. Mr. Lilley especially welcomed the parents of children from Sunshine and Elba districts, whose schools are now embraced in our district.

The list of new officers are: Bert Lilley, president; Mrs. L. Smith, vice-president; J. Belshaw, secretary; Mrs. Stevens, treasurer; Mrs. Stevens is on the membership committee; Mrs. Charney on the program committee; Mr. Mumby, social; Mr. McDougall, sick committee; Mesdames Charny and Stillings and Miss Thomas, finance; Rev. and Mrs. Anderson, courtesy; Hector McDonald, publicity.

Mrs. Charney, program chairman, was called upon to introduce the guest speaker, Miss Jean McCaskilla, teacher at Tuxedo Park school, Calgary, and Miss Margaret McNeil, a teacher of the Puppetry Class conducted at the Coste House in Calgary. Assisting one another these ladies gave a delightful and very interesting performance in puppetry.

Principal Herbert Mumby introduced the following new teaching staff members: The Misses Stagg, Thomas and Crowdis and Dr. Sekhuis.

Mrs. Jean Stevens, chairman of the membership committee, announced that 46 members were officially enrolled and urged each member to bring a new member to the next meeting.

Mr. Mumby treated the assembly to a very interesting film. Refreshments were served, and a social hour enjoyed before the evening's activities were concluded.

During the meeting Miss Bergit Anderson and Miss Edna Jensen, High school students each played piano solos and Miss Joanne Copley sang a soprano solo. These items were greatly appreciated and were a delightful break in the business regime.

Canada's national parks embrace more than 30,000 square miles of outstanding scenic beauty.

The parlor was well-filled with friends and relatives of the bride-elect, who was seated 'neath a cluster of wedding bells and gala pink and white streamers. The miscellaneous selection of gifts were presented in a beautifully decorated wagon, also in pink and white, by the bride's two little cousins, Donna and Dianne, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Mat Dunsmore, Jr.

Margaret was assisted in the little ceremony of unwrapping the presents by her sister, Mary, and Bernice Aldred, and at the conclusion arose and thanked the convenors for her lovely shower and those present for their gifts and hoped that all would visit her in her country home east of town.

Mrs. Dunsmore, Sr., and Mrs. Sam Dunsmore, grandmother and mother, respectively, of the bride-elect, shared the honors at the tea urns, and a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mesdames Alice, Annie and Vera Aldred, Thelma O'Neil, Bee Poynter and E. Lilley.

Bridge Club Is Entertained

CROSSFIELD.— Mrs. Hesketh entertained the members of the afternoon bridge club in her lovely new home. The members were shown every nook and corner which was greatly admired by all. The afternoon prizes went to Mrs. Ed Fraser and Mrs. Jim Belshaw in order of merit. The ladies were treated to a nice lunch at 4:00 p.m.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Frank Laut is recovering nicely in the Calgary General hospital after a recent operation.
